

Please do not repeal or weaken the NJ do not call law. My mother who is 80 years and has a husband in a nursing home cannot be running around to answer the phone every time a telemarketing person or machine calls. It more important that she receive calls that she need to answer heaven help us if the law is repeal and one of these telemarketer calls and she gets hurt trying to answer the phone for a telemarketer.

As for myself I get very annoyed when these people call and you do not want to be rude and hang up. They refuse to hang up and they keep calling back, even after you tell them your not interested, with the same marketing reason. They never take no for an answer. It wastes my time since these calls do not amount to anything except being a annoying. We get enough junk in the mail for which we also get telemarketing phone calls. My recent experience worth junk mail was I by mistake cash a check just before I went on vacation. It turn out this was for a promotion for a service. When I came back from vacation both my parents went into the hospital. I also found out I had colon cancer for which I had an operation. It was not until I was recovering and I reconciled my credit card bills did I find out about these charges. I immeadtly requested that they be removed and stop charging my account. The stop the charges but in order for me to have the other charges reverse I need to send my credit card statements. It took six weeks for them to turn around and deny the claim. So now I am out over $160.00. Is this what we want to happen so people get fooled into doing thing because of their misleading marketing tactics.
